7. PREMISES

- I. Sanepar values unconditional and unrestricted respect for all applicable national and foreign laws, regulations, policies, norms, standards, procedures and good organizational practices in all activities on behalf of the Company and wherever it operates.
- II. Sanepar complies with the legislation and internal rules regarding information security, in order to guarantee the integrity, availability and confidentiality of the Company's information, promoting an upstanding, ethical and transparent corporate environment.
- III. Sanepar fully respects the right to confidentiality and privacy of the personal data of customers and all stakeholders, by virtue of its business processes, creating a long-term relationship of credibility.

8. GUIDELINES

8.1 – General Guidelines

Sanepar shall observe the guidelines set forth in this document to comply with the Brazilian legal system and the commitments undertaken in this Policy.

I - Identify and monitor business, processes, procedures, areas and critical people, as well as business partners, in order to detect and assess the risks of unauthorized access, preparing action plans to mitigate these risks.

II – Process personal data in accordance with good corporate governance practices and with the Brazilian General Personal Data Protection Law – GDPR (in portuguese LGPD), ensuring protection of data subjects whose data Sanepar has access to due to its business processes, in order to prevent information security incidents.

III – Implement and monitor compliance with physical and logical security measures and requirements for the processing of personal data in the process of managing personal information.

IV – Adopt privacy and data protection from the design stage of products, processes or services to their execution by Sanepar, ensuring compliance with the GPDL.

- a) Adapt internal processes and create procedures for the collection and processing of personal data of individuals so that they are carried out in a sufficient way to fulfill their purpose, in accordance with the legal basis, keeping data permanently updated and classified.
- b) Configure the systems and change the Company's processes with appropriate parameters in accordance with this Personal Data Protection and Privacy Policy as a standard in the processing of personal data and sensitive personal data.
- c) Apply appropriate technical and organizational measures to ensure a level of security compatible with the risk, taking into account the most advanced and possible techniques at the time, application costs; and the nature, scope, context and purposes of the processing, as well as the risks, of variable probability and impact, to guarantee the rights and freedoms of data subjects.
- d) During the conception, execution and maintenance of personal data processing operations, adopt appropriate technical measures to ensure the fundamental rights and guarantees of data subjects in the processing of personal data, establish applicable safeguards for the control of the business area, the person in charge and by the subject as to the adequacy to the principles of protection of personal data.

V. Seek to define and keep internal rules, mechanisms and procedures up to date and adapt the processes and tools used for the processing of personal data, aiming to guarantee the rights of data subjects provided for in the GPDL, mainly in relation to the protection of sensitive personal data, subject to the Company's rights.

VI. Use technical and administrative measures for the security of personal data in accordance with the best market standards, in accordance with the identified risks, implementation costs and the state of the art applicable to a given measure.

VII. Require the Operator and any subcontractors to maintain security levels for the protection of personal data recommended by the Controller.

VIII. Use mechanisms in the internal control system so that Sanepar's areas monitor, track and identify atypical situations and those considered suspicious of leakage of personal data.

IX. Determine that contracts, agreements and other similar contractual documents involving data processing contain clauses relating to the responsibility of the service provider, regarding the confidentiality and secrecy of the information processed, the possibility of auditing processes and services, as well as sanctions in case of non-compliance with the law or this Policy.

- a) Establish that the storage of personal data of the data subjects only takes place for the period necessary to achieve the purposes presented to the subject.

X. Make reasonable efforts to ensure that the Operator complies with contractual obligations, carrying out an analysis of compliance with the GPD.

XI. Keep a record of the processing operations carried out, indicating the purpose, processing time, term, security, secrecy and privacy; and hypotheses provided in the GDPR that authorizes it.

XII. Provide and disclose internally and externally this Policy and other information and guidance necessary for clarification on the protection of personal data, observing the specificities of the communication needs of stakeholders.

- a) Develop an awareness program for employees, third parties and suppliers to disseminate the guidelines established for the processing of personal data.

XIII. Provide communication channels, considering the specificities of the communication needs of stakeholders, so that possible personal data breaches are reported in a complete, adequate and timely manner.

XIV. Consider the voluntary commitments assumed by Sanepar regarding sustainable development, such as the Global Compact and the Sustainable Development Goals – GCSDG (in portuguese ODS).

XV. To promote the conciliation between the rules of access to information and public transparency with privacy, personal data protection, and information security.

8.2 – Guidelines for Privacy by Design

As a result of this policy's application, all persons with whom Sanepar has a relationship must, in the conception and development of activities, procedures, processes, products, services, projects, and others, observe Privacy, with the aim of fully complying with the respect for privacy and personal data protection of data subjects from conception and by default, represented by the principles listed below:

I. Proactive, not reactive; Preventive, not corrective action

Predict, anticipate, and avoid privacy-invasive events before they happen, preventing, or at least minimizing, the efforts and expenses that are necessary for their subsequent correction. Do not wait for privacy risks to materialize.

II. Privacy setting as default

Provide the maximum degree of privacy, ensuring that personal data is automatically protected in any project or business process. No action is required on the part of the subject to protect their privacy: it should be built into the project or process by default.

III. Privacy built into the design

Privacy must be incorporated into the design, and architecture of Information Technology systems, and implementations of business rules.

Privacy is not added as an add-on after the fact, it should be an essential component of the core functionality being delivered, becoming an integral part of the project, process, or system without detracting from its functionality.

IV. Total Functionality - Positive Sum, not zero-sum

All legitimate interests and objectives must be reconciled in a “win-win”, positive-sum manner, not through a zero-sum approach where unnecessary trade-offs are made.

The purpose of this process is to meet different interests in the most homogeneous way possible, avoiding the fulfillment of one process at the expense of another.

Therefore, the pretense of false dichotomies, such as privacy vs. security, demonstrating that it is possible to have both.

V. End-to-end security – complete lifecycle protection

Ensure secure management in the information lifecycle, from start to finish, end to end, in any project or business process.

Privacy must be incorporated into projects or processes before the first personal data is collected, extending securely throughout the entire lifecycle of the data involved.

Security measures are essential to privacy, from start to finish, ensuring that all data is stored and subsequently safely deleted at the end of the process.

VI. Visibility and Transparency

All interested parties must be assured that whatever business practice or technology involved is in fact operating in accordance with the stated promises and objectives, subject to independent verification.

The component parts and operations remain visible and transparent to both users and suppliers.

VII. Respect for user privacy

The subject must be at the center of everything, with the aim of ensuring respect for their privacy. The interests of the subject must remain at the forefront by offering measures, such as strong privacy standards, appropriate notice, and user-friendly options.

Specific issues for each business area must be formalized in internal regulatory documents, which complement the general guidelines.

VIII. Additional protection for the vulnerable

When any type of processing of personal data of vulnerable groups, such as children and adolescents, the elderly, and people with disabilities, is carried out, the requirements set out in legislation must be observed, with the aim of mitigating the risks that may cause some type of damage to subjects.

9. PERSONAL DATA PROCESSING

Personal data of Customers, Employees, Dependents, Suppliers/Service Providers, Interns and Apprentices, Retired and Former Employees, Third Parties, Governance Bodies, Representatives of Control Bodies, Representatives of the Government, Shareholders, Participants in Public Tenders and Visitors to Sanepar's facilities are collected during the relationship with the data subject to achieve and comply with contractual obligations (e.g. provision of services by Sanepar), business management activities, as well as for compliance with legal or regulatory obligations.

As a result of this relationship, additional personal data may be collected from the data subject, always in compliance with the principles set out in data protection legislation. The processing of personal data occurs in different ways within Sanepar, adopting the division by categories of holders to better elucidate the ways of processing personal data in our processes.

9.1 DATA OF CHILDREN AND ADOLESCENTS

Sanepar only processes the personal data of minors in accordance with the current privacy and personal data protection legislation.

The processing of personal data of minors under the age of eighteen may be carried out due to activities carried out by the Company, such as hiring them to occupy apprenticeships and interns, as well as for the purpose of registering in the HR system as dependents of employees, as well as for be included in attendance lists, statements by education or recreation entities, with the objective of ensuring security and access control for this public in its facilities.

9.2 SENSITIVE PERSONAL DATA

Depending on its relationship, Sanepar may process sensitive personal data such as, for example, biometric registration for access to its physical facilities; health data or other sensitive personal data involved in the management of people; in cases of relationships with public figures or public agents (e.g. community leaders, councilors, deputies, secretaries of federative entities), especially with regard to political/partisan orientation data; in the case of public policies, programs and social projects and for the creation and management of such projects, such as data related to ethnicity; sensitive personal data that may be included in lawsuits, agreements or investigations of complaints to the ethics channel, among other purposes. Sanepar may process sensitive personal data:

- I. upon consent, and for specific purposes, in accordance with current legislation. If the processing of personal data takes place at the request of the user, it is considered that consent has been given.
- II. without the user's consent if they are indispensable, according to current legislation, for:
 - a) Compliance with a legal or regulatory obligation by the Controller;
 - b) Shared processing of data necessary for the execution of public policies provided for in laws or regulations;
 - c) Conducting studies by a research body, ensuring their anonymity whenever possible;
 - d) Regular exercise of rights, including in agreement and in judicial, administrative and arbitration proceedings;
 - e) Protect the life or the physical safety of the user or third parties;
 - f) Health protection, exclusively, in a procedure performed by health professionals, health services or health authority;
 - g) Guarantee of fraud prevention and user safety, in the processes of identification and authentication of registration in electronic systems, except in the case of prevailing fundamental rights and freedoms that require the protection of personal data.

9.3. COOKIES

Sanepar uses cookies to enhance the browsing experience on its pages, providing more efficient and personalized functionalities. Furthermore, cookies help the company understand how visitors interact with our website, allowing for the optimization of the content and functionalities offered.

Any third-party websites linked to Sanepar's may have their own policies related to the use of cookies.

9.4. USE OF COLLECTED DATA

The personal data collected by Sanepar are only used to achieve the purposes that originated their collection, being treated in accordance with the applicable laws and the GDPR according to the purposes and categories contained, by way of example, in the Appendix to this Policy.

9.5 – CHANGE IN PURPOSE

The personal data of the data subjects will be used for the purposes for which they were collected, unless it is reasonably necessary to use them for another reason and this reason is compatible with the original purpose. If it is necessary to use personal information for unrelated purposes, it will always be in accordance with the provisions of the GDPR, through a legal basis that allows the processing.

Sanepar may process the personal data of data subjects without their consent, in accordance with the rules above, when this is required or permitted by law.

9.6 – DATA SHARING

- i. In some cases, Sanepar may share personal data which it controls when required by law, necessary to administer its contractual and/or work relationship or when it has a legitimate purpose in doing so.
- ii. Can this data be shared with third parties, including service providers, who will treat the data according to the purposes for which it was collected.
- iii. For more information about the sharing of their data, data subjects may use the request form and/or contact us by email lgpd@sanepar.com.br.

10. ACCESS TO INFORMATION AND DATA PROTECTION

- I. Sanepar, a Mixed-Capital Company (Sociedade de Economia Mista), controlled by the Government of the State of Paraná, is subject to the rules of Federal Law No. 13,303/2016 (or Brazilian State-Owned Enterprises Law), and has the legal duty to disclose information related to its management, including, in some cases, the public disclosure of personal data of its Governance Agents, Employees, Suppliers/Service Providers, Interns and Apprentices, Third Parties, Governance Bodies, Representatives of the Oversight Bodies, Representatives of the Granting Authorities, Participants in Public Tenders, and beneficiaries of funds financed by the Company;
- II. In situations that require the public disclosure of personal data, Sanepar shall promote the disclosure of only the minimum data necessary to comply with the duty of transparency, in compliance with the principles of purpose, necessity, and adequacy

11. INTERNATIONAL TRANSFER

Sanepar fully respects the protection of personal data, only carrying out the international transfer of personal data when permitted by law, always in accordance with the requirements established in article 33 of the GPDL and Resolution CD/ANPD No. 19/2024, for the fulfillment of its legal or regulatory obligations or for the execution of an agreement.

12. DATA SUBJECTS' RIGHTS

- I. The data subject has rights related to privacy and protection of their data, and SANEPAR, in addition to being concerned about the security of these data, is also concerned that the data subject has access and knowledge of all their rights.
- II. Specific information may be requested from the data subject to help Sanepar confirm its identity, for its own protection. In addition, Sanepar may reject requests always indicating the reasons of fact or right that prevent the immediate realization of the request.
- III. Thus, the rights that data subjects have are listed below in Table 3:

Table 3 - Data Subjects' Rights

RIGHT	DESCRIPTION
Processing confirmation	The data subject may request Sanepar to confirm the processing of their personal data.
Access to data	The data subject may request Sanepar to access their personal data that it has.
Correction of personal data	The data subject may request Sanepar to correct data that are incomplete, inaccurate or out of date, and may correct or supplement them. In order to carry out the correction, Sanepar may require the data subject to present a document proving the veracity of the new data informed.
Anonymization, blocking or deletion	If your data is being processed unnecessarily, excessively for the purpose of the processing or in breach of the provisions of the GPDL, the data subject may request that Sanepar carry out the anonymization, blocking or deletion of the data within available and possible techniques. For this, it must be proven in fact that there was excess, lack of need or non-compliance with the GPDL in Sanepar's processing activities. The elimination of essential data for the use of the platform will result in the termination of your registration with Sanepar.
Deletion of data processed with consent	The data subject may request the deletion of data processed based on his/her consent, and these will be deleted as long as they are not necessary for the provision of Sanepar services or for compliance with legal or regulatory obligations.
Information about sharing	The data subject may ask Sanepar for information on the public and private entities with which their data has been shared.
Information about the possibility of not giving consent and the consequences thereof	If consent is essential to access a certain Sanepar product or service, the data subject may ask Sanepar for information about the possibility of not providing consent and the consequences of this action.
Revocation of consent	If the data subject has provided his consent for the processing of data, he/she may revoke it at any time. It should be noted that this does not mean that Sanepar can no longer process his/her data, these may be treated anonymously or based on another authoritative legal hypothesis that supports the processing.
Automated decisions	The data subject may request the review of decisions taken solely on the basis of automated data processing and the indication of the criteria used in these decisions, always observing Sanepar's commercial and industrial secrets.
Data Portability	After regulation of this right by the competent authority under the GPDL, the data subject may request the portability of his personal data to another service or product provider.

13. PRIVACY INCIDENT RESPONSE

In the event of personal data incidents occurring, pursuant to the General Personal Data Protection Law (LGPD), and in compliance with ANPD Board of Directors (CD/ANPD) Resolution No. 15, of April 24, 2024, and Sanepar's Incident Response Plan, it is the responsibility of clients, employees, administrators, suppliers, shareholders, business partners, third parties, and other interested parties to report the confirmation or suspicion of a security incident involving personal data to the Company's Data Protection Officer (DPO) so that the necessary measures may be taken and risks mitigated.
